Tulsa Ballet is excited to announce the launch of Project Create. Building on the success of our Leaps Ahead and Leaps in Motion programs, Project Create is a program for grades 1-5, designed to develop confidence, creativity, and self-expression through hands-on workshops in movement and music. This week-long project explores the creative and collaborative process with a ‘can do’ philosophy, stimulating children’s curiosity, physical awareness, and musical understanding. Highlights of this program include an opening performance by artists from Tulsa Ballet Center for Dance Education and a closing performance by your students showcasing their creations.

Performing artists with extensive classroom experience will guide each class to explore and create their own original performances in dance and music. In consultation with school leadership, they may also incorporate school curriculum and school values into the work. Teachers and students will learn skills they can build upon after the one-week program is over and that tie into all aspects of a child’s overall academic success.
